Battle with the Birds

With their first back-to-back season 2-0 starts the Boyz N Black & Gold are faced with a Divisional match-up against the hated “Dirty Birds” to keep this victory train rolling. As I mentioned during Wednesday night’s internet-radio broadcast; the only loss to these rivals came while playing in Atlanta during the 2007 injury-plagued campaign. To date, Coach Payton is 7-1 and the SAINTS have won 6 of last 7 meetings with the “Dirty Birds”.

Sunday afternoon’s battle is at The Dome and the SAINTS’ high powered Offense from a year ago will be looking to breakout with an onslaught of TD’s to drive up the score in this one....something that hasn’t happened yet this Season.

But here’s some more good news: The previous 2 coaches had awful records against our division rival. From ’97-’99, Mike Ditka was 0-6 and Haslett was 6-6 against Atlanta from 2000-’05, but that’s changed since the hiring of Payton and the start of the 2006 season....so let’s keep that streak alive!

In case you didn't already know:

Reggie's broken leg is going to sideline him for six weeks (but not the rest of the season), a person familiar with the injury has said. Bush was expected to be examined again last Tuesday, according to the person who spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity because the team had not officially updated Bush's condition at that time. The Saints had the day off after returning early in the morning from their 25-22 Monday night victory at San Francisco. There are no planned updates on Bush's injury.

The bone in Bush's lower right leg was broken when he recovered his muffed punt with 6:58 remaining. He had trouble catching the ball at windy Candlestick Park and was injured during the scrum after he dove for the ball and players landed on him.
