

DALLAS DOME

SIR SAINT WILL LEAD US TO VICTORY
OVER THE EVIL TEAMS OF THE NFC SOUTH

OFFICIAL 2009 MEMBER NEWSLETTER #22

BRING ON THE "SUCKANEERS"!!

*N*ew Orleans moved to 9-0 on Sunday when Brees overcame two turnovers in the 28-23 victory over the St. Louis "Lambs" and as tasty as lamb chops are, nothing beats an appetizer like a division entrée (which is next on the menu) especially entrée's that come with a rookie QB and first year Head Coach....Yummmmy! Not being satisfied with just being 9-0; these SAINTS are hungry for more NFL prey as they continue to gobble up turnovers and opposing QB's alike.

*O*n Sunday the SAINTS will be facing that evil team from Tampa with a first year Head Coach and Rookie QB Josh Freeman who has 4 TDs in 1st 2 NFL starts...Tampa is 10-0 when RB Cadillac Williams has 22+ carries and he has 3 rush TDs in past 2 meetings. After a terrible start going 0-7 before getting their first win, these pirates are obviously trying to change course. It'll be up to the "Super Saints" to sink that ship and if they do....it's 10-0 they'll be.

*S*ince the division realignment and the creation of the NFC South (2002) the SAINTS are 7-7 against the Bucs and Coach Payton's record is 3-3. Apparently, we seem to split the series with them every year, but in 2006, when we won the division last the SAINTS went 2-0. Of the losses by the SAINTS to the Bucs since '02 they always seem to be at home, meaning, that if this trend should continue we'll beat them in Tampa this weekend, but only beat them at The Dome (Dec. 27th) if we win the division too.

Sounds good to me!

....BCUZ THE "AERIAL ASSAULT" CANNOT BE STOPPED!

You're Not Going to Believe This: It would appear that as of Wednesday morning internet media writers & bloggers are no longer calling our Boyz in Black & Gold the "Sloppy Saints" (as I indicated in the previous newsletter), but now they've changed it to the "Struggling Saints" and the "Shaky Saints". I guess somebody heard about me complaining about the news media calling the members of an undefeated team "sloppy"? Probably not, but I'd like to think I had a role in that...LOL...I'm still going with the "Super Saints" and I think you will too.

On the injury front: A couple defensive starters could return on Sunday when the Saints travel to Tampa Bay to play another one-win team. Greer said he was optimistic he could return. Sharper already has practiced since hurting his knee but decided to rest in St. Louis. Ellis has missed three games and Payton said recently that he should return soon, though he did not specify whether he'd be back this week or for the Pats game next Monday.

The SAINTS signed cornerback Chris McAlister on Wednesday to help the injury riddled secondary. The 32-year-old McAlister is a three-time Pro Bowler. At 6-1, 206 pounds, McAlister is a physical corner who can help against the run, but for many years, he was considered one of the best corners in the game. He was the 10th pick in the 1999 draft by the Ravens and played 10 seasons.

He had 26 interceptions and 339 tackles during his Ravens career.

On a side note: The SAINTS have committed a total of 13 giveaways over its past four games, the highest total any team has recorded in four consecutive wins since the Rams had 13 turnovers in four straight wins in November, 2003. Interestingly enough, the Rams finished that season at 12-4 and went on to the Playoffs.

Join me on Sunday, Nov. 22nd at 12pm to watch the “Aerial Assault” annihilate the Tampa Bay Suckaneers.... The Quarter will be giving away a bucket of beer in the trivia contest just like every week and I’ll have even more SAINTS stuff to raffle off, including an authentic Colston jersey, so come on up where everybody knows your name & your team will always WIN their game!!

Daffy Duck has just finished turning the 50 yard line into the "5000" yard line. "Bugs Bunny is wearing Billy Miller's number since Billy caught the pass that put us over 5,000 yards," said Drew. "This could not have been accomplished without my teammates, coaches, fans, and of course, the great city of New Orleans."

"I get to play a fun role in this piece as I'm immortalized as the one and only Bugs Bunny" said Billy Miller. "Catching the pass that put Drew over the 5,000 yards mark means a lot to me and helping him raise funds for the Brees Dream Foundation, our team, and the city really brings it all home," added Billy.

"I am so proud of Drew and our family is very fortunate to be a part of this great city," said Brittany Brees. "The Brees Dream Foundation is committed to providing care, education and opportunities for children, and this wonderful project with Warner Bros. is a part of our ongoing efforts in New Orleans."

"We used nine of the top Warner Bros. artists for this special tribute to Drew, using the traditional hand-drawn and hand-painted process of animation, making this art truly exceptional. We are very proud of this limited edition," said Ruth Clampett, owner of Clampett Studio Collections, the animation art licensee for Warner Bros., and the daughter of the legendary Warner Bros. animation director Bob Clampett.

Join the tribute to Drew and help raise funds for the Brees Dream Foundation for their ongoing efforts in Louisiana. Each Catch Dat Brees numbered fine art lithograph and hand-painted cel limited edition is personally signed by Drew Brees, custom framed, and comes with a Certificate of Authenticity.
